The concurrent exhibition featured works by Professors: Dr. Barbara Klemm, Dorothy F. Schmidt College of Arts and Letters Department of Visual Arts, Dr. Michael J. Lazzari, Communication and Multimedia Studies, College for Design and Social Inquiry, School of Architecture and Environment, and College of Arts and Sciences. The New Art part of the exhibition was organized by three newly appointed tenure track faculty members.

Hand & Eye: Exploring Photography as an Interactive Medium (curated by performance, sound installation and recording artist featuring music, video, film, and photography) by Stephen Bartrum, musical artist, Dr. Kyle Motz, and visual artist, Dr. Jennifer M. Dominguez, collectively exploring the nature of the perception of the eye and hand as well as the role of the record producer in the aesthetics of sound reproduction. The exhibition invited visitors to step through these spaces to experience these sonic and visual interactions generated in real-time.

In association with Hand & Eye, curators also organized programs that included a panel discussion with the artists, a reception, and a Q&A session. The Conversation Between Artists event invited the public to learn more about their work, their inspirations, and what it means to be a record producer. Dr. Jennifer M. Dominguez, Associate Professor of Art at FAU, and Dr. Michael J. Lazzari, Associate Professor of Art at FAU, participated in a panel discussion moderated by Karen Leader, Associate Professor of Art at FAU. The two discussed their art and the role of art and craft in action today.

Shared Space - Photographs from the Book of Americas Collection
Ritter Art Gallery
January 14, 2020

The exhibition presented historic photographs from the early 20th Century through the 1970s that were taken by the U.S. government to map underrepresented spaces or groups of people into maps. The photographs in the exhibition ask viewers to consider the historical context of the time period or region and thus create a collective memory of the past. The book itself is housed in itself makes a shared space. Among many other exhibits included works by Lewis Hine, Paul Strand, and Henri Cartier-Bresson. Lange, Berenice Abbott, Helen Levitt, Albert Renger-Patzsch, and others. The book is edited by Randa, Fan Ho, Seydun Katta and Marita Algar.

In association with Shared Space, artist Jeanie Anderson provided a guided tour of the exhibition for Museum Studies and Gallery Practice students. Dr. Michael J. Lazzari presented a lecture to a Photography class on how he developed his personal style by collecting to educate himself on the medium.

Shared Space - New Era
Photographs from the Book of Americas Collection
Schmid Center Gallery
February 14 – April 11, 2020

Many of us have a sense of American Art in our communities program the exhibition was a time capsule of our era, traversing our social landscape through the lens of international art photography and a fragment of the American Dream. Curators: Dr. Michael J. Lazzari and Mikhail Gorshkov signed the Intermediate-Exhibit Agreement. In addition, the Berlin Wall 30th Anniversary events like the birth of the internet and the collapse of the Soviet Union were also explored in the exhibition. In Shared Space, we see the complexities of this era through the lens of the camera. The exhibition was activated by comment and more intimate historical discussion. Other exhibits in the exhibition included works by Gregory Crewdson, Barbara Klemm, Heather Ong, Thomas Ruff, and Gahel Ovanes.
